

How to Pick the Correct End Caps For DuxxBak

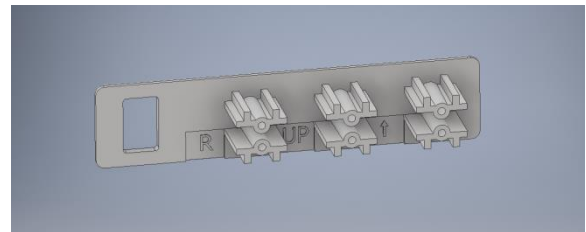

To determine the correct end caps for a particular installation of DuxxBak, look directly at the end of the deck boards where the caps will be installed and compare what you see to the images below.

Right End Caps:

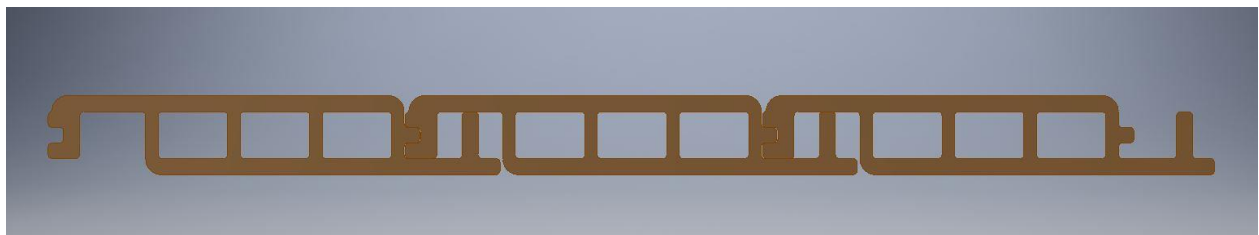

In the above image, the boards were installed starting at the right side and moving left. This installation will require RIGHT END CAPS.

Notice the right end caps are marked with an “R” as well as an arrow indicating which way to install the end cap.

If your deck was installed starting from the left and moving right, then it should look like the image above. This installation will require LEFT END CAPS.

Notice that the left end caps are marked with an “L” as well as an arrow indicating which way to install the end cap.
